“

It had always been the dream of this couple to have a school, which could impart meaningful & focused education to the young. Having been part of a number of schools all over the country by the virtue of being from the armed forces, they gathered whatever good they could & finally planned to implement their ideas to be able to share their experience with the next generations keeping in mind the dynamics of the changing world & the necessity of the children to identify with their roots.

The initial days started with a just 10 children as a small playgroup in their own house. But, it was not long before the word spread & the school grew to more than 300 students creating a need for a better facility & a larger setup, laying the foundation for 'Nalanda School'.”

New Initiatives

Most students distribute sweets/ chocolates on their Birthdays. This gives some momentary happiness, but has no long term benefits or remembrance. Our students have taken the initiative and have started gifting Saplings to the School. The School gives due space and arranges for the saplings to be planted amongst the existing 1200 trees. Tree-guards, drip-irrigation, and trimming are all taught to the whole school in context of this plantation.

This initiative has been whole heartedly supported by the parent and has become a student's movement. Saplings are flowing in and children are excited to take care of the trees so that they can sit under these shady trees when they grow up together.

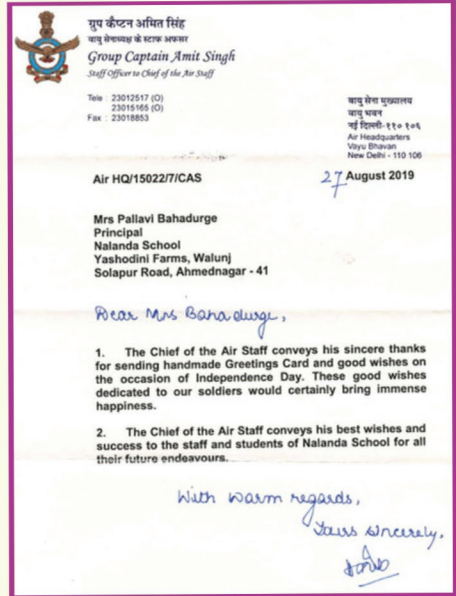

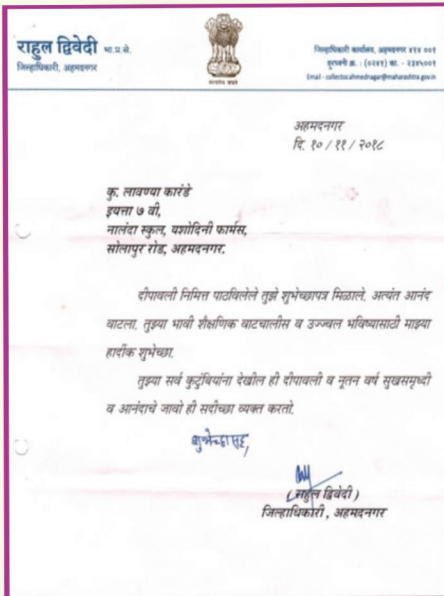

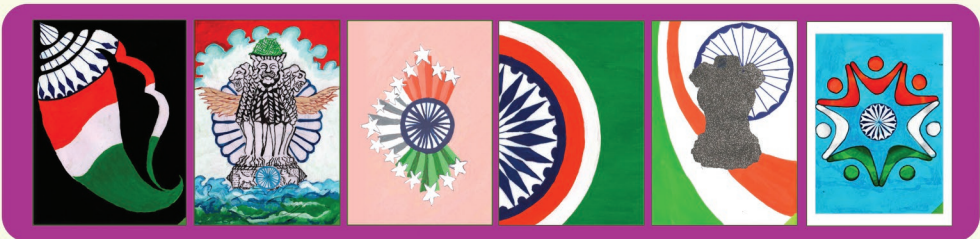

Children's imagination has no boundaries & the students have gone step ahead to create another option for themselves. Now the children can either contribute a Sapling or books to the school library.

It is amazing how solution come out, Children at Nalanda-Walunj, also calculated the expenses that their parents incurred on distributing sweets and have set a minimum cost of book parameter to ensure that a good mix of books is brought in voluntarily.

Who says we need solutions from outsiders. This initiation has paved the way for self help.

Another student's initiative which has helped build patriotism and revive the beauty of expressions through handmade greeting cards & letters. Our students make handmade greetings for our national festivals, viz-15th August & 26th January. The school provides material and postage to support this effort. This initiative & effort of the students has been greatly appreciated by many.
